About the artist

Claudia Meyer trained as a graphic designer at Hochschule für Gestaltung and Kunst in Luzern and made the acquaintance of Anton Stankowski, the grand master of German design, in whose studio she was able to work. Later, she moved to New York and completed her studies at the Fashion Institute of Technology, where she worked intensively on the possibilities of fabric design and modern technologies. During that time, she received prizes for her work and has since been creating using nature as her main sources of inspiration.,
